ANKENY, Iowa, April 14, 2009 — Embria[®] Health Sciences' production facility for EpiCor[®] and eXselen[®] has been officially certified as kosher by the Orthodox Union (OU), the raw material supplier of science-backed natural ingredients announced today. Embria voluntarily participated in the OU's kosher certification program, which entailed thorough on-site inspections of the company's production techniques and its MetaGen4 processes.

"This kosher certification will help our customers meet regulatory requirements and we are excited about the global opportunities this presents." said Paul Faganel, Embria Health Sciences president.
